

Preparing my departure

End of the employment contract

	Definition	Notice period
Contractual termination departure on the basis of mutual agreement between employee and employer	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> It allows the employer and the employee on a open-ended contract (CDI) to come to a mutual agreement on the conditions for the termination of the employment contract between them. It is possible under conditions and compensation. A termination agreement must be drawn up. It must be validated by the DREETS. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> No notice period but departure date according to negotiation.
Resignation	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Allows you to terminate your permanent contract (CDI) on your own initiative. The departure date is linked to the notice period.. Abandoning one's post is no longer considered a resignation, so it is not covered by unemployment insurance and, above all, it is impossible to work in another company.	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The length of notice depends on the job group: 2 calendar weeks for A and B, 1 month for C, 2 months for D and E, 3 months for F to I. Note: the employer can decide to exempt you from giving notice. Taking paid holiday during the notice period pushes out the end date.
Dismissal for inadequacy / professional incompetence	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The employer can invoke this reason to dismiss an employee who has not been able to carry out his task as stipulated in the employment contract (incompetence, professional unsuitability, errors, failures, disorganisation, insufficient or unusable work, lack of qualifications despite the employer's training efforts, etc.). Minimum 8 months of uninterrupted seniority. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The length of notice (1 to 3 months and up to 6 months for executives) depends on the job group, employee seniority and age. Note: the employer can decide to exempt you from giving notice. Taking paid holiday during the notice period pushes out the end date.
Dismissal for incapacity physical or mental	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The employer does not have the right to dismiss an employee who has an accident/illness and who can no longer fulfil their role without having first tried to modify/adapt their role according to the recommendations of the occupational physician. In some cases, it may be important to start the disability recognition process (see the Klesia insurance policy) 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> No
Dismissal for misconduct / gross misconduct	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> The employee's departure is immediate, without the possibility of executing the notice period or paying compensation (unjustified absences or abandonment of post, indiscipline, refusal to execute a task provided for in the contract, harassment, violence, insults, theft in the company, drunkenness in the workplace, etc.). If the acts committed reflect a desire to harm the company and result in damage, the company may also claim damages from the dismissed employee. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> No possibility of working the notice period. Not paid for it.
End of contract to take retirement	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> An employee can decide to retire once he or she has reached the legal age. This voluntary departure is equivalent to a breach of the employment contract on the employee's initiative, but does not constitute a resignation or a conventional termination of contract. 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Contact HRBP at least 6 months beforehand to finalise your departure and at least 2 months before taking an ICDR in time. Update your retirement file 12 months before.
